

Beautiful!

Joseph "Redeemed Man" Smith

Oh, the beauty of a beautiful woman,
made pure because of the purity of Another
Another whose Omnipresent brightness,
is the very brightness of the object of
my already existing affection, praise,
and cause for my meager righteousness.
She is strangely, wonderfully, amazingly,
Astonishing, even shockingly... attractive!!!

Why didn't anyone tell me it would be like this!?!
A man that finds a wife finds a good thing.
But no one mentions the pure unadulterated JOY
of the man that actually finds his good thing!!

OH WHAT A FIND, but HOW did I find this find!?!
This certain special sexy, sophisticated,
saved girl...
Aside from being an affirmation of my devotion to God, kinda like Salvation,
(Blessings like these don't come just by chance...)
It becomes a realization of a deeper divine confirmation...
The search for that good thing is more than just a hunt.

In truth, the actual search, pales to insignificance
when compared to our search for God!
When we find the ultimate good, God,
and see His infinitely merciful graces,
and exponentially increasing graceful mercies,
and again, of course there's that omnipresent
beautiful brightness...
Everything else considered attractive by man's standards becomes... lack.

But oh, the beauty of a beautiful woman,
made pure because of the purity of Another...
Another whose mirrored image is found within that good thing in exactness.

She is strangely, wonderfully, amazingly...
astonishingly... even shockingly... attractive!!!
OH WHAT A FIND! But HOW did I find this find!?!
Oh wait...I didn't...

You see as God orders our steps,
He leads us towards the center
of His ever-present presence,
With the goal of ultimately showing us His love.
Each step we take is because of God's direction
(HE leads the search!)

Somewhere along the way, in the sphere of God's attractiveness, we, that's SHE and me,
found ourselves in the SAME footprint
that God made to show me where to go...
HE found her... I paused.

Why didn't anyone tell me it would be like this!?!
God is strangely, wonderfully, amazingly,
astonishingly and even shockingly, attractive.
And here I was standing in the midst of it,
of His Omnipresent beautiful brightness,
And I could see it COMING FROM HER!!!

Oh, the beauty of a beautiful woman,
made pure because of the purity of another...
Another whose Omnipresent brightness,
is the very brightness of the object of
my already existing affection, praise,
and cause for my meager righteousness...

She is strangely wonderfully amazingly... astonishingly...
even shockingly... attractive!!!

This certain special, sexy, sophisticated,
saved girl...
